Memoir of Localities of Minerals of Economic Importance and Metalliferous Mines in Ireland (1922)
Grenville A.J. Cole

€12 [€ for members]
+ €2.00 p&p Ireland, €4.25 Britain, €4.25 Europe, €4.25 Rest of world.

A facsimile edition of the original, reprinted by the Mining Heritage Society of Ireland, 1998 The memoir lists all known metallic mineral occurrences in Ireland, as of 1922. The original report was reprinted by the Geological Survey in 1956 and remained a popular publication. Each locality is listed with Name, Mineral types, 6" and 1" Sheet number, a basic grid reference and an historical description including relevant references. In addition to the original text, this edition contains a biography of Cole and 22 figures in black and white. The front cover depicts the Man-Engine House at the Mountain Mine, Allihies, Co. Cork. It was erected in 1862 and had an operational depth of 1,494 feet.
